

Additional Information

Registration

Unless noted otherwise, all courses are open to Chaplains, Chaplain Candidates, and Chaplain Assistants. All prospective students must register for a course with the DPMT before doing so in ATRRS. Registration forms are available in the special instructions section of each class in ATRRS.

Lodging/Travel

Due to distances between lodging facilities, Fort Sam, and other learning environments, students are encouraged to rent a car. Lodging reservation information is provided to students once their registration has been confirmed.

Physical Training

Students must meet Army APFT standards or Service Branch equivalent. Physical training is the responsibility of each student during course attendance.

Funding

Each Chaplain and Chaplain Assistant must coordinate their funding requirements through their local units. The courses are not centrally funded.

Medical Ministry Courses

Combat Medical Ministry (For All Chaplains)

Course Number: 5G-CMM-7S

Emergency Medical Ministry (For All Chaplain Assistants)

Course Number: 5G-F9/561-F9

Dates: See listing in <https://www.atrrs.army.mil/atrrscc/>

Combat Medical Ministry and Emergency Medical Ministry are combined courses involving two-weeks of intensive training to prepare UMTs for the rigors, wounds, and stress associated with the combat and medical environments. The courses run concurrently to allow UMTs to hone their skills. In addition to classroom instruction, students train in a level 1 Trauma facility responding to trauma alerts and interacting with Wounded Warriors. They also engage in an intense 3 day field and practical training exercise.

The lessons prepare UMT members to address the trauma, crisis, grief, death, spiritual health, and other ministerial concerns that arise in a Combat Support Hospital (CSH) or Combat and Operational Stress Control (COSC) Detachment and is designed to prepare UMTs for medical ministry associated with deployment.

Chaplains can earn the 7S additional skill identifier when the CMM course is combined with one unit of CPE. Chaplain Assistants earn the 1M skill identifier.

Target Group: Priority is given to Chaplains/Assistants due to deploy or who are assigned to CSH or COSC detachments. This course is required for all MEDCOM Chaplain Assistants. UMTs are encouraged to enroll as a team.

Note: A mandatory in-processing is held at 1800 the Sunday before the first class. Students are required to complete approximately two hours of online training and a pre-assessment before attending the course.

Professional Graduate Short Courses*

Medical Ministry Supervision Management

(Chaplains Only)

Course Number: 6H-300/A0811

Dates: See listing in <https://www.atrrs.army.mil/atrrscc/>

This course provides Chaplains with the knowledge and skills associated with Clinical Pastoral Education Supervision. As a result of this course, Chaplains will be capable of pastoral supervision at the senior levels of MEDCOM. Chaplains completing the course will be able to apply for the Supervisor Education Student (SES) program.

Note: Chaplain must have a 7R ASI.

Medical Ministry Spiritual Health

Course Number: 6H-300/A0801

Dates: See listing in <https://www.atrrs.army.mil/atrrscc/>

This course assists Chaplains and Chaplain Assistants in developing, reinforcing, and safeguarding their personal faith and spiritual growth so that they can more ably respond to the crises of others. Participants will learn models for protecting their spiritual health and explore their current level of resiliency and dedication to spiritual disciplines.

Medical Ministry Substance Abuse

Course Number: 6H-300/A0804

Dates: See listing in <https://www.atrrs.army.mil/atrrscc/>

Substance abuse is an ongoing problem as Soldiers try to cope with multiple deployments, stress, and personal crises. Often, Unit Ministry Teams must provide support to troops to mitigate the effects of substance abuse problems, to help Soldiers get the help they need, and to fortify Soldiers spiritually so they can resist turning to this form of self-medication.

In this course, students learn about addiction, its spiritual aspects, and the medical, developmental, social, and cultural issues that assist in recovery.

Professional Graduate Short Courses*

Medical Ministry SR/Moral Injury

Course Number: 6H-300/A0816

Dates: See listing in <https://www.atrrs.army.mil/atrrscc/>

This course explores the foundational theory of trauma from spiritual, psychological, and physiological approaches with special emphasis on spiritual trauma, post-traumatic soul wounding, and pastoral approaches to trauma. Attendees also learn a variety of pastoral approaches to the implementation of self-care and a stress-preventative rule of life for preservation of personal and operational effectiveness.

WTU Standard of Care

Course Number: 6H-A0806

Dates: See listing in <https://www.atrrs.army.mil/atrrscc/>

The Army course (not conference) is conducted in accordance with MEDCOM OP ORD 07-55, U.S. Army Chief of Staff Comprehensive Soldier Fitness Program and Chief of MEDCOM Chaplaincy. The course will provide training and education to WTU Unit Ministry Teams or Community Based WTU (CBWTU) assigned to WTB across the US Army. This mandatory course will provide the latest training to UMT's to positively impact the care and management of our Nation's Wounded, Ill and injured soldiers and their families.

 All MEDCOM Chaplains must complete a professional short course annually.*
